Claim Rejections – 35 U.S.C. 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nelson et al. (US publication 2004/0243343).

Nelson discloses a system comprising client computers (104, 108) for providing interfaces to user to maintain information on the enterprise, an enterprise server (110) for receiving and handles input information, generating records for posting in customs and transmit the records to the customs server (106), a database (114), and a customs server (106) (See Figure 2) wherein a registered case for updating data (See paragraphs 0014, 0015, 0019), the database store the contracts (See paragraph 0074).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hoffman et al. (2004/0039629) discloses a web based method for managing and transferring business information.
